ASA Electronics® Is Giving Customers More Control with New App Ready Wallmount Stereo

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ELKHART, IN. –ASA Electronics is making it easier than ever to integrate technology into the RV with the JENSEN® JWM70A. This wallmount stereo is App Ready with Bluetooth connectivity for the most versatile listening experience possible. Campers can wirelessly pair any Bluetooth-enabled smart device with the JWM70A and stream their own personal music library. With the jControl app from JENSEN®, RV enthusiasts will be able to listen to their favorite music and control it, too.

The jControl app, available as a free download for both Android and Apple devices, turns a smartphone into a wireless remote control. This includes the industry-first independent volume control of three speaker zones, allowing for louder volume outside and a softer sound in interior living areas. jControl will sync with the JWM70A to remember preferred settings and the stereo's 18 FM and 12 AM radio station presets.

The JWM70A was engineered with the tech-savvy camper in mind. Notable tech features include a USB input capable of charging iPhones and Androids and an easy to use DVD player that supports a wide variety of formats. The jCOM HDMI interface allows the DVD player in the JWM70A to communicate directly with JENSEN® TVs to automatically detect DVDs.

This top of the line wallmount stereo is finished with beveled edges on the control panel to add a sophisticated modern look while hiding the stereo's mounting screws. The JWM70A is complete with a front audio auxiliary input, two video outputs, an RCA output, and a clock with alarm and sleep timer.
